

Press Release: I Know First Featured in Finextra Article as a Top 3 European Fintech Company

Finextra

(Source: Finextra.com)

I Know First was featured in an article published on Finextra written by Amy Matthews, a resource manager from Vibrant, Inc. In this article, the adoption and investment of Fintech companies in Europe were analyzed in detail. I Know First was featured as one of the most promising and innovative companies selected during the European Fintech Awards of 2017.

The European FinTech Awards & Conference 2017 was held in Brussels on 26 & 27 September 2017. I Know First was invited to attend the event as a nominee of the top 3 companies per category of the award. The special event aims to bring leading innovation managers of major banks, eager investors and the most promising FinTech companies together. Attendees are provided with unique opportunities to network and further boost their business.

(Source: European Fintech Awards)

During the first round of the competition, a total of 100 best European Fintech companies (The European FinTech Awards Top 100) was generated by public voting and expert assessment. Further in the second round, top 3 companies were selected within each of the 9 categories from the Top 100 pool by a panel of professionals. I Know First was listed as one of the top 3 companies under the Robo Advisory (Asset, Wealth, ForEx, Trading, Investing) Category.

About Finextra

As one of the leading independent newswire and information provider for the global financial technology community, Finextra primarily provides significant technology news in wholesale and retail banking, the capital markets and insurance area. In addition, it is a research platform collecting and publishing a variety of articles, features, white papers and case studies.

To learn more about I Know First in preparation for their appearance at European FinTech Awards of 2017, click here.